CHALLENGE OVERVIEW

#PJsInPublic Social Media Challenge

Let's turn bedtime into mealtime for kids and their families. Wear PJs. Raise funds for Feed the Children. Make a difference.

#PutChildHungerToBed

Objective

Inspire individuals, families, and communities to raise funds and awareness for childhood hunger through a fun, social, and slightly embarrassing challenge: getting friends, neighbors, or coworkers to wear pajamas in public.

Background

Feed the Children is a leading nonprofit committed to ending childhood hunger. Launching this November, Put Child Hunger To Bed is our year-round campaign to rally the public alongside our donors, volunteers, and partners to provide kids with the food and resources that help them rise and thrive every day. We believe no child should go to bed hungry.

HOW IT WORKS

Timing

November 2–December 21, 2025

How To Participate

- Wear your pajamas in an unexpected public place, such as the gym, the supermarket, an upscale restaurant or a well-known landmark.
- Record your video or snap a photo. Tell the camera why you are taking the challenge to end child hunger or include it in your post.
- Post on Instagram. Upload the video or a photo and use the hashtag #PutChildHungerToBed.
- Tag @FeedtheChildrenorg This helps Feed the Children see and feature your post.
- Nominate others to participate within the next 24 hours. Challenge up to 3 people by tagging them in your post to keep the movement going. Remind them if they opt out, they have to make a donation within 24 hours.
- Donate to the cause. Donate to Put Child Hunger To Bed through the Feed the Children fundraising page & include this link in your post.
- Create Teams or Neighborhood Battles. Groups can create “teams” on the Feed the Children’s Tiltify fundraising platform — classrooms, workplaces, book clubs, or families—to spark friendly competition, i.e., Marketing Challenges Sales team at X company to support Feed the Children.

GROUPS, TEAMS, & WORKPLACE GIVING

To spark friendly competition, we encourage groups such as departments, classrooms, or even sports teams to create a “fundraising team” and participate in the #PJsInPublic Challenge to raise awareness for Put Child Hunger To Bed.

It's Easy. Here's How To Set Up Your Team:

Step 1: Create a “team” on the Feed the Children’s Tiltify online fundraising platform tiltify.com/feedthechildren scroll down to the bottom of the page to select our Put Child Hunger to Bed campaign or go directly to the page here.

Step 2: Then set goal and Tiltify will guide you through the rest!

Sharing The Challenge With Your Team

Here’s an e-mail template that you can use to share the Challenge internally:

Subject: Let’s Put Child Hunger to Bed—In Our Pajamas!

Hi Team,

We’re excited to launch a company-wide initiative in support of Feed the Children’s Put Child Hunger To Bed™ campaign—and it’s as cozy as it is impactful.

We’re joining the #PJsInPublic Challenge, a fun way to raise awareness and funds for children facing hunger. Here’s how you can get involved:

- Wear your pajamas to work (or out in public!)
- Snap a photo and post it on Instagram using #PJsInPublic and #PutChildHungerToBed
- Tag friends or coworkers to keep the challenge going
- Donate or share our campaign link to help feed children and families facing hardship

This is more than a dress-down day—it’s a chance to make a real difference. Every post, every donation, and every pajama-wearing teammate helps spread the message.

Ready to join the movement?

[Insert your group’s Tiltify team link here]

Let’s show up in our PJs and help put child hunger to bed—one outfit at a time.

Warmly,

GROUPS, TEAMS, & WORKPLACE GIVING
